

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of one or two media conglomerates. Michael Powell insists these rules are outdated as the amount of channels has increased. I find it incredible that he believes narrowing ownership will not affect a narrowing of access to alternative viewpoints. Just because there are more channels available does not mean there is an increased democracy. How much are these media moguls paying him under the table is what I want to know! And where are the fighters in the FCC? they represent corporations, not the people, and should be ashamed of themselves. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.
